TWO STREETS MAY BE PAVED

Prospects Fine For Ultimate Success of Two Petitions For Improvement Now Pending.

3d STREET BEFORE COUNCIL

Time For Remonstrance Against Perkins Street Petition Passed
—Viewers Report Awaited.

The prospects are fine for two paved streets being ordered in Rushville this summer. Two petitions to improve Third street, and a continuous roadway consisting of parts of Perkins, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth streets are now pending.

It is absolutely certain that one of the streets will be ordered and it is very probable that the other improvement will be a reality and not a dream inside of a year. The third street improvement would begin at Julian street and extend west to where Buena Vista Avenue joins Third and the brick street begins. The other would begin at Second street, run north in Perkins to Sixth, thence in a northeasterly direction over that part of Sixth street which is known as the "Avenue," on out Seventh street and wind around to Eighth and on east to a point about where the entrance to the Gun and Country Club is located.

The Third street paving question is before the city council, and a majority favors it. It will in all probability go through unless there are enough remonstrators to kill it. The council has set a date for hearing remonstrators, and the city surveyor has already submitted estimates on the cost of the various kinds of materials from which one will be selected for the improvement.

It is understood that there is some opposition to the paving of Third street but that it is not likely to crystallize into a form that will defeat the effort to make the improvement. Members of the council understand that in order to defeat the improvement there must be filed a remonstrance which will contain the names of fifty-one per cent. of the resident property owners.

Members of the council who are strong for the improvement have been looking over the situation. They believe not enough people are opposed to it to kill the proposition. There are several cases in the section that it is proposed to improve where the owners do not live in their own property. In that event they will not be allowed to remonstrate against the improvement.

Several kinds of material have been talked of for the improvement. It is understood there is some opposition to brick because travel on it makes too much noise for a residence district. It is said that a number favor asphalt while a number of others are for just a plain cement street.

It is said to be absolutely certain that the Perkins street improvement will go through. If it does it will be a fine example of tireless energy that does not know defeat, and never relents until it has been successful. Any number of attempts have been made to improve the street. Petitions to improve it under the city act and under the three-mile law have been defeated by remonstrators.

The present petition which has passed the commissioners is for improvement under the three-mile law. Since the time for the remonstrance, according to the law, has passed, there is every reason to believe that the street will be ordered in the near future.

JURY FOUND PAUL OFFUTT GUILTY

Verdict Returned After Being Out
Two Hours—Fine and Costs
Amounted to $46.45.

WILL PROBABLY APPEAL CASE

Paul Offutt was found guilty of speeding as charged in the affidavit late yesterday afternoon and was fined one dollar and costs. The fine and costs amounted to $46.45. Offutt is out on bond pending an appeal to the circuit court. The jury in the case was out for almost two hours and it was thought for a time that the jury would disagree. It is understood that in all twenty ballots were taken. At first the jury stood 8 to 4 for acquittal.

The large amount of costs in the case is due to the number of witnesses and the jury. As far as is known this is the first time anyone has been fined for driving an automobile in this city contrary to the law. Offutt maintained that he did not know how fast he was driving as he did not have a speedometer on the machine.

CONGREGATION DIGS ITS OWN CELLAR

Milroy United Presbyterians Save a Few Dollars by Turning in With Shovels and Picks.

BUILDING A $10,000 CHURCH

The members of the Milroy United Presbyterian church are building a new church. It is to cost approximately ten thousand dollars, and the contract has already been let to Ray Strode. After the contract had been awarded, it was learned that a considerable sum of money would have to be expended to dig the cellar. It was suggested by one member that the congregation take off its coat and dig the cellar. The congregation was willing and went to work. The result is that said congregation has finished the digging process, the trenches are being dug ready for the contractor to begin on the foundation. The rising temperature detracted a little from the work at hand this week, and although visions of fishing along the cool banks of Little Flatrock floated through the minds of some of the workers, they stuck with the job and completed it.

STORY OF TRIPLE ALLIANCE TODAY

It Is That Watson, Foulke and Leeds
Have Hooked up on Agreement.

LOCAL MAN'S ASPIRATIONS

Friends of Former Congressman Here
Treat it as Joke—He Returns to Chicago.

Few if any prominent Republicans who are taking part in the pre-convention proceedings in Chicago are receiving any more publicity than James E. Watson of this city, one of the four delegates elected from Indiana at large.

Mr. Watson arrived home yesterday morning from Chicago, where he had been since Tuesday, and departed last evening for the "windy city." He took with him his two oldest sons, Edwin and James, Jr., so that they might get an insight into the workings of a great national convention.

Correspondents have been playing the former congressman up as jumping over the traces. The Indianapolis Sun correspondent has purported that Watson has fallen out with the Taft leaders because he did not get any important committee appointments, and that he is endeavoring to land a compromise for the sake of harmony.

The Cincinnati Enquirer this morning prints a Chicago dispatch which on its face appears to be preposterous than any which have yet appeared concerning James E. Watson. The Enquirer says that Watson is ambitious for office and that he is willing to hook up with William Dudley Foulke and Rudolph Leeds, the two rank insurgents of Richmond, and vote with the Roosevelt crowd in order to have the sanction of the Richmond insurgents in running for congress in this district. The dispatch says the former congressman aspires to the United States senate.

Friends of Mr. Watson here treat this latest fanciful dream of a "triple alliance" as a joke. They say nothing could be more improbable than Watson, Leeds and Foulke joining on any political proposition. They say that this tale has the earmarks of being further removed from the truth than any which has ever been printed.

James E. Watson said over the telephone yesterday when he was here only a few hours, that it appeared when he left Chicago Thursday evening that Taft would be nominated on the first ballot. He declared, however, that the army men who are in Chicago to whom it up for Roosevelt was cock-sure of victory and were still making preposterous claims.

Watson said that he was instructed by the State convention to vote for the renomination of William Howard Taft and that he intended to do so, no matter how many stories to the contrary were being printed. The Enquirer dispatch said in part about Watson:

No Taft delegate to the convention has been under such fire from the Roosevelt men as James E. Watson, a delegate at large from Indiana. Watson was defeated for governor four years ago. He is ambitious for office. He would like to run for congress in his district and to get into the game for the United States Senate two years hence.

But in his district he has been blocked by the radical progressives under the leadership of William Dudley Foulke and Rudolph Leeds, publishers of newspapers at Richmond.

Watson might carry the district if he could unite his forces with those of Foulke and Leeds, who are de-

MARLATT BOYS WIN HIGH PRAISE

Brothers of Mrs. J. H. Scholl Make Highest Grades in History of DePauw.

WELL KNOWN IN THIS CITY

Bishop McConnell Pays Them a
Glowing Compliment—Family
Faithful to University.

Ernest and Earl Marlatt of Connersville, brothers of Mrs. J. H. Scholl of this city and well known here, where they have frequently visited, graduated from DePauw University Thursday morning. The boys made the highest average for four years in the history of DePauw. The following from the Connersville News will be of interest here:

Mrs. A. N. Marlatt and daughter, Miss Anna, are home from Greencastle where they attended the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of DePauw University. Graduation exercises took place on this occasion, there being 140 graduates. A feature of the occasion specially pleasing to Mrs. and Miss Marlatt was the high praise given Ernest and Earl Marlatt by the University president, Francis M. McConnell, recently elected a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church.

After conferring the degrees Bishop McConnell said:

"I desire to make special mention of Earl Bowman and Ernest Foster Marlatt, as they have a record for scholarship unprecedented in the history of DePauw University. Earl Marlatt has made the highest average for four years that has ever been made by a student of the University, being an average of straight ones. Ernest Foster Marlatt, his brother, only

SPENDS NIGHT IN STORM ON PLAINS

Claude Simpson in Auto Party Which Has Harrowing Experience
Near Roswell, N. M.

RETURN FROM PLEASURE TRIP

Rushville relatives of Claude Simpson, former editor of the Daily Republican, who is now employed by a land irrigation company in Roswell, New Mexico, have received news of a harrowing experience he had recently. A pleasure party of ten in two automobiles were returning from a trip across the plains when the axle of one car broke. The auto in which Claude was riding started on a mission of mercy. But they had trouble. The lights on the machine went out and the party was lost on the plains. They ran amuck and bent a front axle and were otherwise disabled. In the meantime a severe storm broke and rain and hail beat on the party unmercifully. They had to ford swollen streams which "killed" the engine every time. Finally at one o'clock in the morning Claude and the other four piled up in the car and slept until dawn when they found their way into Roswell. The five men in the car with the broken axle had to sleep in it all night.

The English Society for Physical Research has discovered that the soul weighs two ounces, which explains why some whole-souled people are such light-weights.

lacked a few hundredth of a per cent of the same average, his average being 1 and 8-100. Hence the faculty feel that he should be given the same recognition. Although only twenty years, the boys have finished the classical course, the heaviest offered by the University."

The Marlatt family has been faithful patrons of DePauw, as eight members of the immediate family of the Rev. and Mrs. A. N. Marlatt have graduated from that school.

Much to his regret the health of the Rev. Marlatt is such that he could not attend the anniversary. Yet there is much to cheer him as a father in the words of Bishop McConnell.

PRAYER CHAIN LETTERS AGAIN

One is Received by Rushville Woman
She's Asked to Send it to 9
Others.

CAUSE POSTAL CLERK TROUBLE

The old prayer chain letter "gag" is being worked in Rushville again. The plan has been tried a number of times, and it has accomplished nothing except to make a lot of trouble for postal clerks. The scheme is to send a simple prayer to some person and request that it be sent to nine other persons. The scheme has been tried on postal cards, but has always been caught up by postal clerks, the card being sent to the dead letter office.

A Rushville woman received the following from an unknown person in Indianapolis:

This prayer was sent to me. It was said in Jesus' time that all who wrote it would be delivered from all calamity and those who passed it by would meet misfortune. Copy this and send it to nine persons within nine days after receiving it and on the ninth day you will receive some great joy.

Our Ancient Prayer—"O Lord I implore Thee to bless all mankind and to keep us from evil and take us to dwell with Thee."

Please don't break the chain. Sign no name. This is to be sent all over the world.

EXCURSION BAN STILL IN FORCE

Central Passenger Association Falls to Act on Recent Agreement
Regarding Sunday Specials.

TWO RAILROADS WITHDRAW

This Leads to Belief That no Attention Will be Paid to Decision Agreed Upon.

At the meeting of the Central Passenger Association in Chicago this week, the subject of Sunday cheap excursions did not come up. Action was deferred until a later date until a larger representation would be present, it is said.

It was heralded far and wide some time ago that the railroads comprising the Central Passenger Association had entered into an agreement that no cheap rate excursions should be operated over their lines this summer. The announcement caused dejected spirits among some classes while the railroad companies were praised for the action by others.

But there proved to be some backsliders in the camp. The Monon and Nickel Plate railroads violated the agreement and announced that they would withdraw from the alliance made several weeks ago. This caused a hasty meeting of the railroads to be called and it was predicted all the railroads would begin the operations of Sunday excursion trains again.

Whenever the meeting is held, it is thought by railroad men that such action will be taken. If the agreement is not cancelled in the regular manner it is thought that railroads in the association will run excursions, since the agreement has been violated, just as if it had never been made.

Hundreds of local people take advantage of Sunday excursions each year although the patronage during the past two summers was not as great as it was a few years ago. Some of the railroads object to excursion trains on Sunday and desire to eliminate them from their schedule altogether. Other roads, however are strongly in favor of the usual Sunday excursions and withdrew from the agreement.

A large number of the people in this city are opposed to Sunday excursions and were pleased with the action of the railroad companies in doing away with such trips.

FARMERS SCARCE TODAY

Rains Not Heavy Enough to Prevent Work in Fields.

There were very few farmers in Rushville today. Although there were several heavy rains in Rush county, according to reports today, the fields were not too wet for farmers to work. Tillers of the soil would be only glad if the fields were flooded so they could not work, as the crops and vegetation need moisture very badly.

BRYSON ON GROUND.

Connersville News: T. C. Bryson, Sixth district delegate left yesterday for Chicago. He has a ticket to the "big show" which begins next Tuesday, the 18th, but there will be something doing every minute in the meantime. The Roosevelt folks of which Mr. Bryson is one have a lot of fight in them regardless of what the national committee is doing and are gathering at the seat of war in large numbers from all parts of the country.

STATE BOARD IS DEEPLY STIRRED

Medical Examiners Going After Sellers of Cocaine.

LICENSE MAY BE REVOKED

The Case of a Fort Wayne Physician and Druggist Charged With Selling Injurious Drugs to Minors Will Be Taken Up in July—Belief That Such Practice Is Widespread Will Lead to Further Investigation.

Indianapolis, June 15.—Dr. H. W. Niswonger, a physician and pharmacist of Fort Wayne, has been cited by the state board of medical examination and registration to appear before it July 10 and show cause why his license as a physician should not be revoked because of alleged sales of cocaine to minors.

The action against Niswonger was based on affidavits filed by minors, who said they bought the drug in the Niswonger store, and by a detective who arrested Niswonger on a charge of illegal sale of the drug. A case against Niswonger is now pending in the Allen county courts.

The board believes the sale by physician-pharmacists of cocaine, morphine, etc., illegally, is widespread, and has determined to revoke the physicians' licenses when proof of illegal sales is found. Dr. J. M. Dinnen of Fort Wayne, president of the board, who collected the evidence in the Niswonger case, said:

The sale and use of such drugs as cocaine and morphine is far worse than the sale and use of alcoholic liquor. A victim of the alcohol habit has a chance to reform, but the victim of cocaine or morphine, never. A man may use alcohol without becoming a thief or a liar or a cheat, but the user of cocaine or morphine sooner or later becomes one or the other, or all three. We have in jail in Allen county now two young men who were arrested for crimes traceable to their use of cocaine obtained illegally."

OLD EDITOR RETIRES

John B. Stoll Could Not Abide Policy of Paper's Owners.

South Bend, Ind., June 15.—J. B. Stoll, editor of the South Bend Times since 1881, and one of the best-known newspaper men of the state, has terminated his connection with that paper.

This action on the part of Mr. Stoll marks the retirement of the nestor of Democratic editors in Indiana. When the Times was consolidated with the South Bend News in August of last year and Mr. Stoll disposed of the controlling interest of the Times, it was announced that he would continue as editor. Mr. Stoll objected to a censorship of his policies and presented his resignation, saying that the agreement entered into last August had been violated.

In connection with the report of Mr. Stoll's retirement it was given out that he has been engaged to write a political history of Indiana.

Prosperity.

An old epitaph runs thus: "I was well, wanted to be better, took medicine, and here I am." A considerable part of the 15,000,000 voters of the United States, though hardly a majority, are apparently ready to ensure the party that controlled all departments of the government from 1897 until the present house was elected. That was a period of sixteen years, and the executive branch is still Republican.

What will Republicans have to say for themselves if called on to deliver the keys to another party on March 4 next? It will be something better than was ever said before under such circumstances. How stands the treasury at this moment? By the end of the month which is also the end of the fiscal year, the surplus will be considerable.

During the sixteen years all American dollars were made as good as gold. The war with Spain was fought and paid for. It is needless to go into the details of the resulting territorial expansion. Nor is it required to give a long table, expressed in billions, of the general progress of the country. Tested at any point the answer is the same. Business is active all along the line, and the masses are steadily employed at good wages. What a contrast with 1897! In that year the Republicans took hold, with promises to improve the situation in all respects. They have fulfilled the pledge more amply than was expected. Good times were restored, and so thoroughly that the building and completion of the Panama canal became possible. This link between the oceans looked in 1896 like a dream of the distant future. If there must be a temporary Republican valedictory—which is improbable—it will be a thrilling review of great achievements.

The Canoeing Season.

Of all the summer sports, canoeing is the most poetic. The silence with which the little fairy craft slips along the shining waters seems to make you and it a unit with nature.

The mystery and poetry is driven away by the noise and haste of modern transportation. The canoe slips into the very heart of the great outdoors, which fills you with a silent peace.

For some such reasons unconsciously felt, the canoeing is particularly a favorite with romantic young people. Then too, its elusiveness is admirably fitted to tete-a-tetes and lonely eaves of the lake and river.

But next to all this poetry and romance tragedy lurks closely, for the canoe at best is but a treacherous friend.

Keep your eyes open then, when you get too mooned out with your best girl. Remember all the young men who have had to carry home the dreadful news to heart broken parents, of the sweetheart left by the tricky craft at the bottom of the lake.

A chameleon with whiskers is a biological curiosity, but Senator Kern seems to introduce the animal to natural history, says the Marion Chronicle. In the last State campaign Senator Kern lined Senator Beveridge up with the powers of pillage and now he is weeping bitter tears over the same senator's heroic patriotism in voting against the present tariff law. Upon receipt of an election to the United States senate at the hands of the Indiana brewery and distillery machine, he closed up like a clam about the purchase of eight of his votes in the legislature of 1909, and now he is lifting up his lamentation about corruption in the election of a senator in the neighboring State of Illinois, and demanding that one of his colleagues be expelled because of the taint upon his toga. But all this is easily possible to the agile statesman who made an unanswerable speech against free silver in April, 1896, and an equally irresistible argument in its favor in July of the same year. It is a wonder that the alfalfa on the Kern chin has not been blown off years ago by the variable winds that blow through the crop.

A beautiful memorial to the heroism of Columbus has been unveiled at Washington. Columbus, however, sailed the seas in comparatively safe days when the ships carried life boats instead of golf links.

By some strange omission, no one has suggested that the Republican National Committee rise and sing 25 verses of "Blest be the tie that binds."

Anyway, Mr. Lorimer does not have to write out an item and send it to the paper when he desires to appear in the personal column.

The Palace bill tonight consists of an Imp, "The Call of the Drama" and a Solax comedy entitled "That Troublesome Picture," with a new song by Miss Brandon. The new radium bold fibre screen is said to be pleasing the Palace patrons.

The Princess will show three pictures tonight. "The Star Reporter" is a drama of newspaper life that is said to be vibrating with reality. It is a Vitaphone as is "His Mother-in-Law," a comedy built around a subject that the jokesmith still finds the best. "The Reformation of Kid Hogan" is a Lubin drama that is teeming with human interest and situations that really exist in the slums of some of the larger cities.

The Portola will have its usual double program this evening. "His Chance to Make Good" is a powerful Selig drama. "A Man Worth While" is a western drama produced by the Melies company, and is said to be a very thrilling one. "Teaching a Liar a Lesson" is an Essanay comedy. SOCIETY NEWS

The Misses Marie Crosby, Ethel Blackledge and Ruby Amos entertained delightfully yesterday afternoon with a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Miss Crosby in North Morgan street. The honor guest was Miss Lenore Wooden, whose marriage to Albert Bristol of Indianapolis will take place at the St. Paul M. E. church Wednesday evening.

The decorations were all in pink and white and presented a very beautiful appearance. The whole interior of the home was a mass of roses. Pink and white roses, dozens upon dozens of them, were arranged in artistic bunches and clusters. Hanging baskets filled with roses were used to good effect in decorating. Malinette was used to embellish the decorations. Bridal candles of pink with white burned in the corners of each room. A luncheon in four courses was served.

The guests were: Mrs. Sam Anderson, and the Misses Lenore Wooden, Hazle Lytle, Frances Capp, Zelma Cox, Jessie and Bertha Monjar, Mayme Hiner and Irene Lowenstein, of Valparaiso, besides the three hostesses, the Misses Crosby, Amos and Blackledge.

Miss Frances Capp entertained about a dozen girl friends at her country home south of the city Wednesday evening, honoring Miss Wooden.

Miss Wooden will go Monday to Indianapolis where a number of showers will be given in her honor during the two days preceding her wedding.

Handi-Craft Exhibit

There is being shown in the window of George C. Wyatt & Company's store a very interesting display of Art Handi-Craft, the work of pupils of Mrs. Ada Williams of the Studio Shop of Cincinnati. The samples show good design and clever execution. Mrs. Williams is now in Rushville at Mrs. Smiley's home in North Harrison street, and will be pleased to talk to all interested in stenciling basketry, metal work, book binding, leather work, the making of jewelry and any branch of porch craft work. 8012

GOING TO MONTPELIER

Evangelist of Louisville Accepts a Call After Many Offers.

The Rev. J. O. Bills has accepted the pastorate of the M. E. church at Montpelier, Ind., and he and Mrs. Bills will move there shortly, says the Louisville Traveler. He has repeatedly refused calls to active ministry, preferring to continue his work as an evangelist, but after looking over the situation at Montpelier Sunday he decided he would accept the call and so notified the elders Monday afternoon. Both the Rev. and Mrs. Bills have been very active in local church circles, and though we wish them much success in their church work in the new field, we are really loath to lose them.

LET US SHOW YOU NO-RIM-CUT TIRES

You are undoubtedly convinced that you should use No-Rim-Cut tires. Every motorist has read about No-Rim-Cut tires again and again in the magazines and newspapers. You have read how the 10 per cent oversize and No-Rim-Cut features cut tire bills in two. You have wanted these tires. They are here now. Let us show you.

NO-RIM-CUT FEATURE

No-Rim-Cut tires have six tapes of 126 braided wires in the base, making the base absolutely unstretchable. Nothing can force the tire out of the rim channel. A hooked base is not necessary to hold the No-Rim-Cut tire on. The hooked side of the rings are turned away from the tire. Then the tire, when deflated, rests on the rounded side of the rings. Rim-Cutting is impossible.

10 PER CENT OVERSIZE

When a car is overloaded the tires get that extra strain. That hastens breakdowns—means blowouts. No-Rim-Cut tires are made 10 per cent oversize to provide for overload. The construction allows that. That oversize means 10 per cent more air—10 per cent more carrying capacity. That oversize saves all that overloading costs. Consider these features and what they save the motorists. No-Rim-Cut tires cost no more than standard clincher tires. Why shouldn't you adopt No-Rim-Cut tires. Come and see them and you will.

COMMISSIONERS TO INSPECT ROAD

Leave For Eaton, O., This Afternoon
on That Mission—Short Meeting
This Morning.

ELECTION OFFICIALS NAMED

The county commissioners left early this afternoon for Eaton, Ohio, where they will inspect some roadways. They were in session for a brief time this morning, and adjourned until the regular monthly meeting the first Monday in July.

The Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company was given ten days to move its high tension wire poles in Walker township so that the work of the Lowden highway could proceed. The Arlington Telephone Company had already agreed, it is understood, to move its poles that were hindering the progress of the work. Selman Gordon petitioned some time ago for the poles to be moved.

This morning the commissioners named the election commissioners and inspectors for the Norman Apple road election in Orange township July 6.

GIRL INJURED AT CHURCH EXERCISES

Miss Tressie Sanders Climbs up to View Corner Stone Laying and Loose Stone Causes Fall.

HER FOOT IS BADLY MASHED

Miss Tressie Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sanders, residing west of Waldron, was the victim of a very painful accident during the corner stone laying of the new Methodist church at that place, at which the Rev. V. W. Tevis of this city officiated.

Miss Sanders, with several of her girl friends, was attempting to get upon the brick work of the church so they might have a good view of the laying of the corner stone. Several of the girls had climbed on top and Miss Sanders and Miss Edna McNelly were attempting to get up over a window. The cap over the window which was of stone gave way as they were endeavoring to get up and fell to the ground, striking Miss Sanders on the left foot and mashing it. A big gash about two inches long was cut in the member and at first it was thought several of the little bones had been broken, but a close observation of the foot by Dr. J. E. Keeling who attended her, showed that the foot had only been bruised and cut. It will be several days before Miss Sanders will be able to walk.

LIGHTS THE FUSE TO WATSON BOOM

Jake Finklestein of Terre Haute is Not Content Without Boosting Former Congressman.

SECOND PLACE ON THE TICKET

A life-sized boom for James E. Watson to have a second place on the national ticket has been launched by Jake Finklestein of Terre Haute, Watson's friend, at the Chicago pre-convention doings, according to late dispatches today. It is stated that the boom did not attain any real momentum until the Terre Haute manufacturer injected some of his ginger into it and began his rounds as a boomer.

Watson's idea of nothing, in the form of a job, is the vice-presidency, according to his close friends. However, there was a more or less serious movement looking to Watson as a candidate for vice-president, and some of the Roosevelt men encouraged it on the theory that if Watson in that way could be lined up for Roosevelt it might mean also the help of Sunny Jim Sherman of New York, Watson's good friend.

Finklestein is the man who barely missed arrest in Washington several months ago when he announced that he would deliver a goose to President Taft in person. He outwitted the capital guards by enlisting the aid of his friend Watson, who has been hanging around the capital more or less constantly since the people retired him from the legislative halls.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

EVERYBODY'S DOIN' IT.

(Columbus Republican.)

A few days ago a young woman entered a local establishment where men's furnishings are sold, hesitated a moment and then asked to see some men's silk half hose, commonly called socks. The dealer supposed she wanted them for a brother or some friend of the male persuasion and naturally asked the size. The girl blushed slightly and mentioned a size that would indicate small feet for a man. She finally bought a couple of pairs of the smallest size the dealer had and hurried away.

The girl told somebody, and somebody told somebody else, and by and by it got out that she was buying the half hose for herself. And now they say that "everybody's doin' it, doin' it, doin' it." The fad for women wearing men's half hose promises to become popular here. Those who have tried it say the half kind are much cooler and wear much longer. Some of them had trouble in arranging matters so the hose would stay up and a number of brothers have bemoaned the unexplained loss of their supporters. Others adopted other plans, but all found some way. Indications point to a brisk demand from women for the kind of hose that men wear.

A Chicago professor argues that we should teach our young ladies and girls the jujutsu system so that they will be able to defend themselves from evil minded men. Young ladies who spend their spare time with associates morally their equals will find a knowledge of jujutsu of little practical use.

DAMAGES DEMANDED

James B. Connolly Sues James E. Sullivan For Libel.

New York, June 15.—The summons in a suit for $50,000 damages for libel, brought by James B. Connolly, the writer of sea stories, against James E. Sullivan, president of the Amateur Athletic union and chairman of the Olympic games committee, was served on Mr. Sullivan at his office. The suit is the culmination of a controversy between Sullivan and Connolly originating in a magazine article by Connolly, in which he attacked Sullivan's management of the American athletes at the games in Athens, and said that Sullivan runs the athletic union in the interest of an athletic trust. Mr. Sullivan replied with a pamphlet in which he criticised Connolly's conduct on the steamship Republic when she was rammed by the Florida. It is for this criticism that Connolly sues.

CONNECTICUT CHILD
SEIZED BY AN EAGLE

Fortunately Little Dress Broke Under the Strain.

South Norwalk, Conn., June 15.—The largest eagle ever seen or shot in these parts attacked Emma Trewald, an eight-year-old girl, in the rear of her home in Westport. The bird, which measured seven feet from tip to tip of the wings, soared down on the child as she was picking daisies. The eagle grabbed the girl by the back of her gingham dress with his claws and started to fly away with her, but the goods gave way and the child fell into the grass. The eagle was returning to renew the attack when the child's cries alarmed Rudolph Trewald, the father, and he came out with a shotgun and, using the two barrels, brought the king of the air to the ground. Even then the bird put up a stubborn fight and clawed Mr. Trewald viciously when he approached him. The girl was lacerated somewhat by the bird's claws and was bruised by her fall to the ground, but her injuries are not serious.

ROOSEVELT NOW
ON BATTLEFIELD

The Colonel Has Taken Personal Charge of Forces.

WILL MAKE THE WELKIN RING

At Least This Is the Expressed Hope of Bill Flinn and Others of His Lieutenants Who, the Taft Forces Say, Are Ready to Admit Defeat Unless Roosevelt's Own Fighting Personality Can Save the Day For His Cause.

Chicago, June 15.—In an effort to explain why ex-President Theodore Roosevelt swung into this town this afternoon, any number of reasons or alleged reasons are given. Half of his managers on this battlefield, it is well known, have protested all along against Colonel Roosevelt's appearance during the session of the national committee or those of the national convention, but William Flinn, one of his managers, a born fighter himself, has insisted from the time of his arrival here that Colonel Roosevelt should come along and make the welkin ring.

It is said one of the reasons why Colonel Roosevelt has rushed into this fray is that in the states of Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, all Roosevelt states at the presidential primaries, there are delegates very partial to the nomination of Taft. Mr. Flinn declines to admit the truth of this, however. Flinn declares that the colonel will be on the battlefield just as the national committee is ending its work on all the contests. It is his idea that when these contests are finally decided tonight, both Taft and Roosevelt will be running about neck and neck and that the ex-president will have Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in which to personally talk with delegates who are on the fence or inclined to be on the fence, for the purpose of winning them over to his cause.

Big Public Reception.

Senator Dixon and Alexander H. Revell of the Chicago Roosevelt headquarters met Mr. Roosevelt this afternoon and escorted him to the Blackstone hotel. On Monday night there is to be a mass meeting in the Auditorium theater, at which Colonel Roosevelt will be the only speaker. By that time all of the delegates will be in the city. It will be open house. There will be no tickets issued, and a great throng is promised. Colonel Roosevelt in his speech will, it is said, attack the national committee for its decisions in the contests.

Senator Dixon was asked if Colonel Roosevelt's visit to this city has been made necessary by the situation. He replied: "Judging from the action of this bunch of burglars in the national committee it looks as if there were a fairly good sized crisis in the Republican party."

President Taft's utterance in the White House, "There will be no third candidate. All the information I get is that I shall be nominated on the first ballot, with votes to spare," has been a welcome declaration here to his champions and followers. Senator Crane and other Taft men believe that the ex-president's visit to this city at this time will be injurious to his cause. Director William B. McKinley of the Taft headquarters, speaking of Colonel Roosevelt's arrival in this city, referred to Roosevelt as "the last hope of his own failing candidacy," and said:

"At a conference of Roosevelt leaders held Thursday afternoon a final poll of delegates to the coming national convention was taken which showed that Roosevelt was seventy-eight votes short of a renomination despite all that his personal representatives had been able to do for him. Contrary to their desires, but in accord with their best judgment in view of the facts confronting them, it was determined to admit defeat to Mr. Roosevelt and to say to him that unless he could himself save the day, his defeat for the nomination was an accomplished fact. This message was duly conveyed to Mr. Roosevelt and he is now on his way to Chicago."

Impartial observers in taking an inventory of the situation still hold to the opinion the die will be cast with the switch of fifteen votes one way or another. One cannot move a step without hearing reports of dissensions and desertions, some affecting the Taft cause and others the Roosevelt candidacy. One report was that there was a serious break in the New York state delegation from Mr. Taft, but Chairman Barnes and others deny this. The burden of the song concerning the New York men was in effect that many in the delegation cared little for President Taft or ex-President Roosevelt, and would like to see a new Richmond in the field. It was even stated that quite a number of the New Yorkers favored the candidacy of Senator Cummins.

Roosevelt Got None.

Chicago, June 15.—The Republican national committee yesterday awarded twelve delegates to Taft, two in an Oklahoma district, two in a South Carolina district, and eight in four districts in Tennessee. Thus far 170 delegates have been awarded to President Taft and fourteen to Colonel Roosevelt.

STATE DEPARTMENT
BADLY WORKED UP

Gomez Government Guilty of Misrepresentations.

Washington, June 15.—The state department in a statement which Minister Beaupre was authorized to make public in Havana, scores the publicity organization of the Gomez government, officials of which have been sanctioning the circulation of misrepresentations of the United States policy in Cuba in the present crisis. There is no doubt that this statement was authorized because of reports issued from government sources in Havana to the effect that Speaker Ferrera had cabled from Washington that at his request Secretary of State Knox had ordered the battleships withdrawn from Cuban waters. Officials here are now convinced that absolutely no reliance whatsoever can be placed in the government reports of the progress of events in the troubled districts.

The Cuban legation in Washington has made formal request to the state department that the battleships now in Cuban waters be withdrawn. This request was denied by Secretary Knox most emphatically with a note, the terms of which, even though those of diplomatic exchange, were anything but mild.

Reports from Cuba today were to the effect that the situation in the island remains unchanged.

The Colonel Explains.

New York, June 15.—Colonel Roosevelt left for Chicago on the Lake Shore Limited at 5:30 last evening. There was a demand for him from the delegates, not as a candidate, he said, but because he represented certain principles. His parting word was that these delegates "were not in the mood to see the victory stolen."

The Prisoner Wept.

Princeton, Ind., June 15.—When Ralph Grigsby, aged twenty-three, was convicted of contributing to the death of Lena Kress of Oakland City, each juror shook hands with him and expressed regret at being compelled to convict him. The prisoner wept. His sentence is three to fourteen years.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE.

A most delicious tapioca pudding is made with canned pears for an accompaniment.

A few prunes or cherries are an addition to a tapioca pudding.

When making pastry, handle with as little moisture as possible; the more crumbly it is the more flaky it will be.

When putting on the top crust, just after rolling out, spread it with lard and sprinkle with flour and pat it in, then sprinkle with cold water just before putting into the oven. It will puff up and be very much flakier than usual.

In rheumatism the great remedy is elimination, getting rid of the poisons which go back into the system and should be thrown off.

Put five or six sheets of paper in the bottom of a fruit cake pan before baking the cake, and it will be much nicer, as the long baking tends to make a hard crust, which is not allowed to form with the paper as a protection.

A most appetizing dish to be served either for supper or luncheon is potatoes and bacon. Put a layer or two of thinly-sliced potatoes in a buttered bakish dish and pour over a thin white sauce or simply milk with a little seasoning of salt, pepper and butter. Lay over the top a few slices of nice bacon and set into the oven to bake for an hour or longer, depending upon the thickness of the potatoes. Serve from the dish, as it looks almost as good as it tastes.

Whole wheat right from the granary, which can be bought for two cents a pound, if cooked until soft and the grains well cracked, makes an ideal breakfast food for a growing child, or in fact anybody, for with cream and a bit of sugar it is a meal in itself. Children should not be allowed much sugar on breakfast foods; none is better for most children, and if they never have it they will not miss it. Soak the wheat after bruising it, if desired to crack the grains, then put it on to cook for a half a day. A fireless cooker is a fine place to cook whole wheat.

A hundred calorie portion of puffed wheat, for which we pay a cent and a quarter, has no more nutriment in it than the same amount of whole wheat, which costs a sixth of a cent.

FRANK ENOUGH TO

But at That, It Didn't "Get" the Governor.

Indianapolis, June 15.—To see how a certain delegate from another state votes when his name is called in the Democratic national convention in Baltimore, friends of Governor Marshall wait with patience. The Marshall-for-President club has sent to every delegate elected a printed copy of the speech recently delivered by the governor at Fort Wayne, on the occasion of the meeting of the Democratic editors of the state. Accompanying the speech was a short letter asking the delegate to read the speech and calling attention to the governor's candidacy for the presidential nomination. The delegate who has attracted the attention of the governor's friends wrote in reply:

"I have been elected a delegate to the national convention, but it may be that I shall not attend. The expense is very great, and I do not see now just how I can get the money together. If you will send me enough to pay my expenses to Baltimore and back, I will be glad to talk business with you when we arrive there."

The money has not been sent. If the delegate goes to Baltimore he must obtain his money elsewhere, the governor declared.

Road Improvement Organization
Has Made Wonderful Strides

Probably the greatest group of men ever gathered together in one cause is now enlisted in the work for the betterment of the public roads of the United States under the auspices of the American Association for Highway Improvement. Starting out little over a year ago with the intention of crystallizing and correlating the road movement, then under way in the various states, but with no central clearing house for general cooperation, the American Association has now the most compact working organization in the country and its list of members includes some of the most prominent men in all walks of life.

All the prominent members of the association, of whom there are nearly 1000 are taking an active interest in the work that is being done. About 140 local and state associations have been formed by the American Association and the purpose is to provide every locality in the United States with an organization working for the improvement of public roads. Every state in the Union is now represented in the American Association by regular or sustaining members and it is the hope of the directors of the association that before the end of the year affiliated associations will cover every section of the country. The fact that Logan Waller Page, Director of the U. S. Office of Public Roads is the president of the association is a guarantee that the work will continue to be carried on in the most practical manner.

The Indiana Good Roads Association, with headquarters at Indianapolis, is affiliated with the American Association for Highway Improvement, and is fully alive to the importance of better roads in the future progress and development of the State. The members of the State Association hope to secure some beneficial Good Roads legislation during the coming session of the State Legislature, as they believe that the members are beginning to realize that there is a very general and urgent Good Road sentiment throughout the State.

Dairy Herd Improvement Needed

By H. C. MILLS, Dairy Field Man, Purdue Experiment Station
Purdue University Agricultural Extension

Gorgeous Boy, 67767, Used in the Purdue Dairy Herd. His Daughters Are Producers.

Many farmers do not consider cattle feeding profitable, and yet if one will look at it as a part of an intelligent system of farm management, and so into it with a determination to make the most out of it, he will usually come out successful in the end. Too many farmers look at the net cash return from feeding a bunch of cattle.

A Many-Sided Business.

Cattle feeding is a many-sided business, much depending on the buying and selling as well as the feeding and the feeding. The man who figures his profits on net cash returns alone is not only looking at it unfairly, but is in addition following a short-sighted policy in regard to the business of the farm.

Three great economic problems confront corn-belt farmers.

First and foremost of these is the maintenance of a productive soil.

Second, the profitable utilization of coarse roughage, large quantities of which is produced on every grain farm.

Third, the profitable employment of labor and equipment for the entire year.

The logical solution of these problems lies in keeping on the farm a sufficient number of animals capable of consuming and profitably utilizing the coarse feeds grown and at the same time returning large quantities of manure to the farm. No class of animals is better adapted to this than cattle of some kind. Sheep may be profitably kept for this purpose, but the limited number which can be successfully maintained together on the average farm is not usually sufficient to meet the need; furthermore, cattle will utilize damaged hay, straw and fodder to a better advantage than sheep.

Cattle Make Productive Soils.

When a sufficient number of cattle are kept, the problem of maintaining a productive soil is relatively easy. The manure produced and the bedding used not only adds plant food to the soil, but in addition has a marked influence on the physical condition of the soil as well as the organic life in the soil. No doubt one of the limiting factors in crop production today on many farms is the available supply of moisture during cropping season. This may be greatly increased by the addition of vegetable matter to the soil. No more successful or practical plan of doing this has been found than that of incorporating litter and bedding in the manure which is to be applied to the soil. Without cattle most farms have great quantities of corn stalks and straw wasted or half utilized. Where cattle are kept the stalks can be completely utilized and the straw and other coarse roughage most profitably handled and the residue returned to the soil in a desirable form. This source of waste on many farms amounts to more than enough to pay for operating the entire farm.

How to Make Cattle Profitable.

To make cattle profitable a man must learn to know good cattle and buy a class of cattle suited to the needs of his particular plan of farming, at a time when market conditions are favorable. In addition, he must learn the value of different rations and methods of feeding in order to feed so as to produce rapid cheap gains and the desired finish.

There is no secret art in the business. Any intelligent farmer may obtain such information if he cares to make the effort. The agricultural colleges and experiment stations have the necessary information and data and will gladly assist those desiring to keep and feed cattle successfully.

Five years' results with a ration of corn, clover hay, cottonseed meal and silage at the Purdue experiment station show an average net profit per steer of $15.34. In figuring the profits from cattle feeding one must not only look at the cash return, but take into consideration the manure produced, which on the average has a value of two and one-half to three dollars per ton ($2.50 to $3), the increased crop yields, the utilization of roughage and grain on the farm, the pork produced, and the saving of labor which would otherwise be necessary to market the crops grown. In other words, the whole operation must be looked at as a part of a successful system of farm management.

Doubtless conditions in the near future will be such as to make it desirable and more profitable for corn-belt farmers to breed their steers rather than buy them, and any one contemplating the keeping of cattle in the near future will do well to consider this phase of the business.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

MONEY IN CATTLE FEEDING

By PROF. J. H. SKINNER, Dean of Purdue University School of Agriculture
Purdue University Agricultural Extension

A Profitable Bunch of Steers Fed Six Months—Average Daily Gain 2.58—Profit Per Steer, $21.55.

The first step in the improvement of a herd, is proper feed. No cow, good or poor, will produce results without proper feed and care. Equally important with proper feeding is the providing of adequate dairy barns. When the above mentioned steps have been taken, the cows not responding by increased production, should be replaced by better ones. The securing of good cows to replace the better ones, sometimes proves difficult. The best method of securing them is to breed the best cows in the herd to a good, pure bred dairy sire, and raise the heifer calves.

In case the herd is too small to make the owning of a male practicable, breeding associations may be formed by the dairymen of the community.

The buying of a dairy sire is an important step. If we buy a young sire, we must depend on the pedigree of the animal. We should base our judgment of the animal upon the record of the near ancestry, the dam and granddam, rather than upon that of some noted ancestor, several generations back. The safest plan is to buy an animal old enough to have heifers in milk. We then have a means of determining the animal's ability of producing heifers of large capacity for milk production.

Many good dairy sires have been sold to the butcher. The owners of these animals could no longer use them in their herds because of relationship, and their neighbor dairymen did not see the advantage of buying a tried and tested animal but preferred to purchase a young animal of unknown qualities.

A number of dairymen in the state are making no attempt to raise heifer calves, but buy cows to keep up their herds. In most cases this is a mistake. Better cows can be procured, at a less cost, if a good dairy sire is used and the heifers from the best cows saved.

The need of better dairy stock in Indiana, as well as in other states, is very evident. Recent investigation made by the dairy department of Purdue, disclosed the fact that there were herds producing $2.58 worth of dairy products for each $1.00 worth of food received, and that other herds produced only $1.20 worth of dairy products from each $1.00 worth of feed received. A difference of eight cents in the cost of producing a pound of butterfat was also found between two herds.

When we consider that the average production of dairy cows in the United States is estimated at 150 pounds of butterfat, and that the best records of high producing cows is around 1,000 pounds of butterfat, we may readily see that there is a vast amount of room for the improvement of the dairy stock of the country.

In Indiana, it has been estimated that there are 200,000 cows that are not making a profit above the cost of the feed they receive and the labor of caring for them. If each could be replaced with cows making a profit of only $5.00 (and hundreds of good cows are making a profit of $50.00 and $60.00), it would mean a million dollars to the state.

There are three methods of selecting dairy animals, as follows:

1. By form or appearance.
2. By pedigree or records of ancestors.
3. By performance, keeping records of the herd's production.

For the average man, the last mentioned method is the best. If selling milk by weight or measure, a record of the amount of milk produced by the animal should be kept. If selling on the butterfat basis, the amount of butterfat should be determined by weighing and testing the milk. If the milk is weighed and tested for two days in each month and this result taken as an average for the month, very close results for the year may be obtained.

MAKEUP OF THE COIFFURE

Original Effects Sought After by the Smartest Women Who Set the Fashions of Paris.

This year there is little absolute novelty in the matter of hair arrangement to chronicle, yet the changes, though subtle, are none the less potent—a frequent experience as is demonstrated when one puts on an old hat, carefully cherished, even when no distinct change in fashion has taken place.

The most important aspect of the coiffure nowadays is the silhouette it produces, a fact in union with the whole spirit of dress. And this is the first point to be carefully noticed and attained. A low, full outline is the one most generally sought after, and attained quite easily by the aid of many clever frames and adjustments provided. A decidedly Eastern effect is one of the most noticeable features in the new dressings which should not be overlooked by the woman who would be in the van of fashion. In the evening this has its opportunity, and Paris already speaks authoritatively of "La Grand Mogul."

Then in the arrangement of the long hair a decided vogue may be prophesied for wide, soft plaits and twists, frequently made of well-waved hair, which breaks the formality and throws other lines into those employed by the treatment of plaiting or twisting. A chic arrangement takes the form virtually of a chignon—for want of a better word—covered with a very wide, soft plait of waved hair, the effect being of broken lines intertwined, which give different shades and pretty lights, while it is not till close examination that the plait itself is distinguished.

county commissioners appointed viewers to go over the street. Their report is due at the regular July meeting. The viewers will recommend the kind of material to be used and it is likely their recommendations will be based largely on the desire of the property owners and residents of the streets which it is proposed to improve.

The opposition against street improvement in Rushville is lessening year by year. Five years ago talk of paving a street in Rushville always brought a storm of protest. When the petition to pave both Main and Second streets was carried, and the streets were made, the value of the street as an asset was at once realized and many people who had been violently opposed to street improvement in the past were won over on the other side.

It is being freely predicted by men who keep in close touch with the trend of public thought in Rushville that not many years will elapse before every street of any importance in the city will be paved.

No doubt half the people in this world who are in want have reached that condition because of their own discretion, but that is a lame excuse for refusing charity.

STORY OF TRIPLE

manding Roosevelt's nomination. Leeds arrived here last night, and he says that some of the Indiana Taft delegates are going to vote for Roosevelt.

One of the men associated with Leeds stated today that a deal is being considered by which all opposition of the radical progressives in the Watson district would be withdrawn from him if he will vote for Roosevelt and use his influence to pull two or three more delegates away from Taft.

The price fixed for Watson's desertion from the Taft forces is the nomination for congress, with the pledge of support from some of the influential progressives who have been opposed to him in everything politically. Some of Watson's friends and the Taft managers say that he will not fall for such a game, and that there is no danger whatever that he will violate his instructions.

It is not denied, however, that Watson's actions caused the Taft leaders much worry and annoyance, and that they are unable to understand him. Watson wanted to be a member of the Committee on Resolutions, but he was informed that the place was being held open for Charles W. Fairbanks.

The membership on the Credentials Committee has been held out for James A. Hemenway, and the understanding is that Joseph D. Oliver, South Bend, is slated for the Indiana place on the Rules and Permanent Organization Committee. These facts were pointed out by Jake Finkelstein, Terre Haute, an ardent Watson man.

Watson is said to feel that he is entitled to more recognition than he has received from the Taft headquarters, although he declared after coming here that he would not vote for Roosevelt.

The Indiana delegates will have a meeting Monday, at which there will be a showdown. Watson is at his home in Rushville but will return Sunday.

The Indianapolis Sun said last night:

James E. Watson is ready to fight and fight desperately unless he is appointed as the Indiana member of the committee on credentials. In fact, Watson may not vote for Taft or Roosevelt since the present strained relations with the Taft managers in Indiana developed.

Watson is the only one of the delegates-at-large who was left off the Indiana slate of membership on important committees. He does not want to violate the instructions of the State convention, but the stern duty of casting a vote for Taft in a Republican national convention is more painful now than it seemed when Watson was elected.

'SOUSED' WOMAN
COMING HERE

Disgusting Spectacle at Greensburg Station Where She Lollied in Drunken Stupor.

HER CLOTHES WERE TORN OFF

Ticket Was Finally Found and Indicated She Was Headed For Rushville.

One of the most disgusting and degrading sights at any time and anywhere is that of a drunken woman, says the Greensburg News. Add to this normal good looks, youth and a crowd of curious and shocked spectators and we have the scene presented at the depot Friday morning.

An unknown young lady was landed at the Big Four depot this morning in such a complete drunken stupor that her name, where she came from or where she was going she was unable to state. She lay for a while in the main passenger room, but was finally taken to a rear room, where the ugly sight would not be so public.

Several ladies finally learned from her that she was bound for Rushville. When the train was almost ready to leave, three or four people, among them a News reporter by much persuasion, pulling and pushing, succeeded in landing her safely on board. Her ticket was then discovered; it read, from Louisville to Rushville. A bottle of whiskey was the only baggage she carried and it was "excess."

By wallowing on the floor most of her clothes had been torn off. The spectacle excited the pity as well as the disgust and horror of the large crowd of passengers.

She left this city riding in the smoker, the train crew believing this the most suitable compartment for her, and respecting the presence of lady passengers.

SUICIDE AND HER
VICTIMS BURIED

Bodies of Mrs. R. N. Edwards and Sons Laid to Rest in Glencove Cemetery Near Knightstown.

GRIEF PROMPTED HER ACT

The bodies of Mrs. Russell N. Edwards and two sons, wife and children of the former Knightstown man, arrived in Knightstown this morning and were taken directly to Glencove cemetery where burial took place. The funeral services were held at the home of the parents of the deceased woman in Indianapolis yesterday afternoon.

According to an opinion expressed by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Mrs. Edwards and her two boys, grief over the death at birth of a girl baby a month ago led the woman to asphyxiate herself and sons.

Mrs. Edwards who was only twenty-seven years old, and her sons, Kenneth, four years old, and William, three years old, were found dead on Tuesday evening by the husband and father when he returned to his home in a Chicago suburb.

The testimony showed that Mrs. Edwards desired a daughter after the birth of her two sons, and when one was born to her only to die at the moment of its birth, she was grief stricken and since then had been despondent.
